ABOUT ME

Enthusiastic and dedicated professional with a unique blend of expertise in civil engineering and web development. As a Civil Engineer, I bring a wealth of experience in project management, water supply system design, river modelling and engineering, wastewater sewerage system and sanitary sewerage. My commitment to delivering high-quality results is evident in my successful completion of diverse engineering projects. In addition to my engineering background, I am a skilled Web Developer adept at creating robust and user-friendly websites. Proficient in HTML, CSS, JavaScript, and various web development frameworks, I have a passion for designing and implementing innovative digital solutions. My ability to bridge the gap between the physical and digital realms positions me as a versatile professional ready to tackle interdisciplinary challenges.
